Procedures for membership of the International Coffee Organization

- 1. The Executive Director presents his compliments and wishes to inform Members and observer Governments about procedures for becoming a Contracting Party to the International Coffee Agreement (ICA) 2007 and a Member of the International Coffee Organization (ICO).
- 2. These procedures are summarized as follows:
 - Ratification, acceptance or approval by Signatory Governments (Section A of Annex I)
 - ii. Accession by non-Signatory Governments (Section B and C of Annex I).

The ICA 2007 and membership of the ICO

- 3. The overarching objective of the ICA 2007 is to strengthen the global coffee sector and promote its sustainable expansion in a market-based environment for the betterment of all participants in the sector. Membership of the ICO provides access to independent coffee market information and analysis, a worldwide forum for discussion at an intergovernmental level on coffee policy and related matters, and support with developing and seeking finance for projects that benefit Members and the world coffee economy.
- 4. Members also undertake to adopt measures as are necessary to enable them to fulfil their obligations under the ICA 2007 and fully cooperate with one another; in particular, the provision of all information necessary to facilitate the functioning of this Agreement.

- 5. These undertakings include:
 - i. Detailed, timely and accurate statistical information on coffee production, exports, certificates of origin, imports, re-exports, consumption, stocks, etc.¹
 - ii. Contributions to the Administrative Budget for each financial year.

Membership contributions

The activities of the International Coffee Organization (ICO) are financed by contributions from Member Governments which pay a contribution based upon average volume of coffee exports or imports. For this reason, the provision of accurate and timely data by Members is essential, not only to ensure that Members are charged fairly, but also that the Organization has the appropriate funding to address the challenges facing the global coffee sector.

Ratification, acceptance and approval

7. Ratification of the Agreement is the act that makes it officially valid for a signatory government. Normally, this is done by passing a law or decree by the appropriate legislative body in the country. The terms 'ratification', 'acceptance' and 'approval' mean the same thing and have the same legal effect. They are used by different countries to reflect their constitutional procedures.

Accession

8. Accession is generally used by States wishing to express their consent to be bound by a treaty where the deadline for signature has passed.

¹ Rules on Statistics: Statistical Reports (ICC-102-10) and Certificates of Origin (ICC-102-9 Rev. 1).

Applying to ratify, accept, approve or accede to the ICA 2007

- 9. At its 122nd Session in September 2018, , the International Coffee Council approved Resolution 464 which provides for Governments to deposit instruments of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession by 30 September 2019.
- 10. A model instrument, which may be adapted as appropriate, is attached at Annex II. The United Nations Treaty Section² notes that instruments must include:
 - Title, date and place of conclusion of treaty/Agreement
 - The type of action should be clearly identified, e.g. ratification, acceptance or approval
 - Full name and title of the person signing the instrument (i.e. the Head of State, Head of Government or Minister for Foreign Affairs)
 - An unambiguous expression of the intent of the Government to consider itself bound by the treaty/Agreement and to undertake faithfully to observe and implement its provisions
 - Date and place where the instrument was issued
 - Signature of the Head of State, Head of Government or Minister for Foreign Affairs (the official seal alone is not sufficient).
- 11. Annex III sets out the process to follow when applying to ratify, accept, approve or accede to the ICA 2017.

Depositary

- 12. The ICO is the Depositary for the ICA 2007 (as designated by Council Resolution 436 of 25 January 2008).
