ASIC 2010

23rd International Conference on Coffee Science

1st Announcement

The most important conference on coffee research worldwide will take place in Indonesia from October 3rd to 7th, 2010 at the Grand Ball Room of the Bali Grand Hyatt Hotel, Nusa Dua, Bali, Indonesia. It will be a great honor for the Indonesian Coffee and Cocoa Research Institute (ICCRI) to host this event in the year when celebrating a century of its existence.

ASIC 2010 will focus on the latest international findings in scientific and technological researches in all areas of the coffee industry. It will be a unique opportunity for integrating and exchanging knowledge among professionals engaged at all different stages of coffee supply chain, growing, processing and consuming.

Two current themes "Coffee and Health" and "Climate Change and Sustainable Coffee Production" will be on the conference agenda, enabling participants to find out and discuss about the important progress in these areas.
